The map only indicates the ships that have this harbour as their permanent home port. It is therefore possible that your ship is not shown. If this is the case, please contact the ship's master before departure in order to ask for the location of the berth for your sailing trip. The master's telephone number is in the ServiceMail with your latest information.

Kampen is easily accessible by car, bus or public transport. There are good, free parking facilities near the ships.

Parking policy in Kampen

In the city centre you must, with the exception of parking permit holders, pay for parking. The parking policy applies to the town centre. There are three car parks that are free of charge within walking distance from the town centre (at the edge of the centre). It is generally easily possible to park your car here because they are relatively large car parks. The free parking places are located at the NS station at the police station (indicated on the map with P). You can also park for free on the Burgemeester Berghuisplein at the town hall.

Public transport

From the NS station it is three minutes walk (over the Stadsbrug) to the ships. You will see them when you arrive.
